THAT TRANSCRIPT AGAIN.

The "Silver State" Answered—Plain Talk from a Responsible Source.

(COMMUNICATED).

EDITOR GAZETTE: From extracts published in your paper from the Silver State, it appears that our neighbors, the people of Humboldt county, are not satisfied with the manner they have been treated by the officers of our county, and even intimate that the reformers, as they call our officers, have been guilty of misrepresentation and perjury in their dealings with Humboldt.

Now, with your permission, I would like to correct the Silver State in one thing. That paper seems to think the people of Humboldt have been dealing with "reformers." This is a mistake. They are known in this county as the "Ring." Call them the Ring, Mr. Silver State, the next time you speak of the people here who charged you something like $3000 for trying Rover.

But the item in the account which now more particularly agitates the good people of Humboldt is the matter of $373, for sending the testimony to the Governor's office. Humboldt county wants to know if it is true that our county did not intend to pay the Clerk for this item. As I was one of the committee of the late grand jury which investigated the matter, I think I can tell our Humboldt friends just how the matter was arranged, because the committee got the information directly from the parties who put up the little job. Briefly stated, it occurred in this wise: The Clerk, in making up the transcript in the Rover case, included the testimony, which had no business there. This testimony made 701 pages, which in all consisted of 818 pages. As is well known, the Supreme Court refused to consider this bundle of stuff as a transcript, but sent it back to our Clerk with instructions to expel the chaff. The Clerk thereupon divided the transcript into two parts—117 pages in one part and 701 in the other. This last part was the "chaff" complained of by the Supreme Court. The first part, consisting of 117 pages, was returned by the Supreme Court as a proper transcript, and the other part, of 701 pages, was then sent to the Governor's office. So much for the transcript and what was done with it, and now it is necessary to go back and bring up the charges, and, as the accounts differ somewhat, I will first show how it was charged against Washoe county and how the account was made out against Humboldt.

After the transcript of 818 pages was sent to the Supreme Court, our Clerk charged our county $346 50 for it. This was duly allowed and paid to him. After it came back from the Supreme Court and was divided into two parts and the 701 pages sent to the Governor's office, our Clerk made out and presented a second bill against the county for $373, duly verified in the usual form that "no part of the claim has ever before been presented or paid, and that the whole is now due and chargeable against Washoe county." This claim was allowed by the Board and audited by the Auditor, but with the distinct understanding that it should not be paid to the Clerk unless Washoe county could collect it from Humboldt. This matter was fully exposed this far by the report of the last grand jury, and I am a little surprised that Humboldt county should have been caught napping after the grand jury had uncovered the little joker.

I now come to the account as it was made up by the ring against Humboldt: The original transcript of 818 pages is charged against Humboldt county at $346 50, the same as against Washoe. The testimony to the Governor's office, consisting of 701 pages is also charged up at $373 against that county as it was, against ours, but here comes an extra—the 117 pages which were returned to the Supreme Court are made into an additional item and charged at $36 25.

To summarize the above items it will read thus:
818 pages, or all of Transcript.....$346 50 701 " or seven-eighths of Transcript, 373 00 117 " or one-eighth of Transcript..... 36 25 Total claim against Humboldt.....$1,105 75

Now, when it is recollected that the only amount legally chargeable against either county was $36 25, the enormity of the swindle will be at once obvious. But if our friends in Humboldt county believe that "misery loves company," they can console themselves with the reflection that they got off easier than we, for while they only paid $450 25 we paid $846 50 and still owe the Clerk $373 under the contract which provided that he could have it if Humboldt could be induced to come down—and as they did so, as appears from Cain's statement, in his interview with the editor of the Journal, our Clerk will be entitled to recover, because at the time of the allowance of the bill, as above stated, the Clerk was to have it if Humboldt paid it to Washoe. But, as the District Attorney explained at the tax payers' meeting at the court house, this was one of the "private matters of business of the officers of the county," and the grand jury did wrong in exposing it. I am aware that some of the officers now claim that the $373, if collected from Humboldt, should go into the treasury to "reimburse Washoe county for what would likely be deducted by Humboldt from the original claim of $846 50 for transcript." While this explanation does not help our friends in Humboldt, it was intended as a sop to appease the wrath of the outraged people of Washoe county. The facts above stated concerning the condition of the allowances were had from the parties interested at the time where some of the officers thought "it was none of the grand jury's business whether Pete got the money or not, if Humboldt could be made to pay it."

Our Humboldt friends intimate that there was misrepresentation and perjury connected with the making up of the accounts against their county. I can only say this in answer—they are not alone in that belief. Many of the good people of Washoe are of the same opinion, and have made up their minds that when the proper time comes the guilty ones will be made to suffer. I also suggest that they preserve well those accounts sent from this county, as they will most likely be wanted as evidence. H. H. B.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A nervous Democrat, who evidently favors the Republicans, says: "Let us have good, square, honest, true men—men who will regard the interests of the poor and the rich alike, and the communist guns will be spiked. Kearneyites, Nationals and strikers are only another name for communists. Some have said, but will the people support Connor, an Irishman, as against Bradley? Pray, how far removed is Bradley from being an Irishman? Is a man a horse because he was born in a stable? On behalf of the press we would like to know just where those communistic guns are located, and when the spiking process is to begin. Democrat's suggestion in regard to good men is timely, and the Republicans will attend to it. In reply to the last question, we should say no. As our impression runs, a man is not a horse because he was born in a stable. That is, not necessarily so. He may be an ass, however, which is equally censurable.

The twenty-fifth annual fair of the State Agricultural Society of California will commence on Monday, September 15th, at Sacramento, and continue through the week. The directors of this society have shown even more than the usual enterprise in preparing for the twenty-fifth meeting of their members and friends. Marcus D. Boruck is President of the concern, and has an enviable reputation for energy and perseverance in a good cause. We acknowledge receipt of a season ticket, and shall try to be present. We believe in fairs, and will always help them in any way possible.

Sprague, who was convicted of a share in the More murder trial in San Buenaventura county, is likely to escape. In the case of Sprague, it is conceded, and the records show, that the indictment and plea were not read to the jury, and that this omission may result in a new trial. It is claimed that this error will not only result in a new trial, put in the discharge of the defendant, upon the ground that he can not be tried again, the jury having been discharged without any legal necessity.

A Democrat with an inquiring mind recently had a political night sweat in Eureka, and sought relief in sending this question to the Sentinel: "Great God! have we no honest men but those few at Carson?" The Sentinel thought it too early in the campaign to take sides and the poor man still suffers. We send him to-night by express a history of the Potter investigation and W. M. Tweed. The sufferer should be kept free from all excitement until he recovers. A bath will aid convalescence.

A Garrard private secretary to Governor Bradley has been in town for a few days, presumably organizing the Bradley faction in Washoe. A GAZETTE reporter interviewed Mr. Garrard and gives his opinion in another column. Mr. Garrard is very confident of things which are yet to be decided and he may find that some of the dead cocks are able to crawl about when the time comes.

Sitting Bull has now recuperated and thinks of taking the road again. The officials do not believe in the rumor. The government has paid for its unbelief many a time. The next war among our wards ought to be the last. The government should bury Sitting Bull and all of his kind, placing an Indian agent as a headstone at each grave.

What's the matter with Judge Goodwin? Here are people dying by the hundred in the East from the heat, yet the graveyard department of the Enterprise is as empty as a new coffin. With all this supply of fresh meat, the Judge the other day had to go and dig up poor old William Ellery, who died in 1820, and club the bones of him with a column obituary.

General Sherman, in a recent speech, alluded to the "people whom we have whipped." Mr. Waterson is very much enraged about it, and evidently doubts whether anybody has been whipped. Mr. Waterson is too chivalrous, by half. He is always able, but the contemplation of his ability in politics is often marred by his absurd predilection for "wah." Mr. Waterson ought to hire a prize-fighter as a companion for his leisure hours. This would not mend things, however, for Henry would still whip the bruiser on paper.

The Eureka Leader charges that Democrats in Eureka are invoking the aid of the Republicans to defeat Bradley for the nomination. The Leader complains of this and the Silver State thinks it political trickery. There is very little difference in our mind between beating Bradley with Republican votes at the primaries and unhorsing him with Democratic lances at the polls. The Democratic press should certainly be allowed its choice in small matters like this.

The proposition to give Democratic support to Jones in exchange for Sharon's seat is falling to earth as might have been expected. It was agitated in Storey and Humboldt, but as yet nothing save absurdity has been found in it. Sharon is about as unworthy a man as public history can show, but he still holds the key to the situation. The fact that Democrats ever made any such a proposition is a proof of their weakness.

STOCKS.

Dick Rule, of the Footlight, recently had a large block of Picatu sacrificed for him by an exacting broker. He wails:

Ophir some Bodie to give us a Point on stocks—one that would inspire us with Confidence, and cause us to invest our Consolidated savings in some security and thereby reap a Grand Prize. We could then leave this Altitudinous Hillside, and secure a home in that Golden Terra, California. But the Poorman must ever succumb to the Silver King. Had we an Imperial fortune, we would Belcher forth to the world that Justice must be the foundation of all laws Over-man. As it is, our Exchequer is drained to the 2400 level. We cry for Succor, and have scarcely Bullion enough to buy a Jacket. Our desire is not to accumulate Gold and Curry favor with the public; we are Benton making a Homestake, and will not feel Savage Norcross if we do not Chollar it.

At a meeting of twenty-six Radical members of the House of Commons it was resolved to press to a division Sir Charles Dilke's amendment to the Government's motion for a grant to the Duke of Connaught on the occasion of his approaching marriage. It is also settled that Taylor, the member for Leicester, should move a rejection of the bill authorizing the grant, when it comes up for a second reading.

In a pigeon-shooting match, at London on the 24th, between Bogardus and Mr. Wallace, of England, for £200 a side, Wallace killed seventy-one birds and Bogardus sixty-two. Of the first twenty five birds Bogardus missed sixteen.

MARRIED.

HARNER-GRAF-In Reno, July 24, 1878, by Justice Richardson. Henry Harnor, of Indian valley, to Amelia Graf, of Germany.

BORN.

BOARDMAN-In Reno, July 25th, to the wife of W. M. Boardman, a son.

A PLEASING INCIDENT.—"Sir," said Dr. Johnson, let us take a spin down Commercial," and the gruff old lexi-cographer, with Boswell trotting at his heels, made a bee line for Fred Kolster's store, below Hagerman's store, and ordered six complete suits in his enthusiasm, over the large new stock of French and English goods.

BEECHER COMING.—Henry Ward Beecher will lecture in Reno on August 19th. The great preacher will discuss the "Wastes and Burdens of Society." Charles R. Bacon, his agent made all the arrangements so that it is a sure thing that the people of Reno will have a chance to hear and see Beecher at last.

CARRARD'S GUESSES.

What Bradley's Right-hand Man Has to Say.

Colonel Garrard, Governor Bradley's private secretary and right-hand man, was in town this morning. The Colonel is a remarkably clean and intelligent man for a Democrat. He fell into conversation with a GAZETTE reporter and spoke quite freely about the political situation, as he views it.
The Colonel is, of course quite certain that Bradley will walk away with the Democratic nomination and the election. He finds, however, that the Democracy of Washoe is largely in favor of Hagerman, with a few scattering Foxites. This, the Colonel was good enough to consider not only natural but laudable. The reporter mentioned the oft-made statement that in the event of Bradley's failing to flet the nomination he would throw all his strength in the convention in favor of Hagerman. The Colonel replied that he had never heard the Governor speak upon the subject. He feels as certain of the nomination as a man can of anything in the future, but should such an amazing thing happen as his failure to obtain it he would be perfectly willing to stand in with Hagerman, Fox or any man that suited the party.

"How about the Lieutenant-Governorship?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, Adams, of course. If Connor gets the Republican nomination Mighels will probably get the second place, and that would leave a walk-over for Adams. Colonel Moore is about the only man mentioned in connection with the office who would give Adams a close run."

Colonel Garrard believes that General Connor will be the Republican nominee. He speaks in the highest terms of the General, whom he has known for many years. He is, in the Colonel's opinion, "a pure, high-minded gentleman." Colonel Garrard considers that Daggett, Tyrrell, Woodburn and Batterman are all dead ducks in the pit. Wren and Fred Hart are on the war-path, the Colonel says, desiring mightily to bury the meat-ax in the brains of the friends of Connor. This comes of the absurd geographical question which has been lugged into Nevada politics, and which the Colonel gives Cassidy, of the Eureka Sentinel, the credit of originating. Cassidy, according to the Colonel, runs the Republican party on the base range—not through his paper, which has little influence, but through his personal energy and jaw-bone. It is more than likely that he will support Connor. The Colonel seemed to be in a very open frame of mind, expressing his opinion of men with a freedom that would have made some of their heads swim if they could have heard him.

A Perfect Harvesting Machine.

We, the undersigned, farmers of Indian valley, Plumas county, California, having to-day witnessed a thorough trial of the Osborne self-binding Harvester, set up and operated by Mr. C.
H. Ayers, your traveling agent, take great pleasure in testifying that it did excellent work, binding long and short grain in both large and small sheaves, tight, and in a neat and workmanlike manner, without breaking the wire, wasting the grain or causing any delay what ever. Signed, J. Harris, M.
Harris, purchasers; D. H. Chapman, L. Cox, Wm. Cottingham, J. M. Har-grave, Wm. J. Hardgrave.

Taylorville, Cal., July 25, 1878.

The above machine was purchased from Mr. C. W. Perry of this place, and warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every case. They claim that they can save more grain and get it in better shape than any other way of harvesting, and with less expense, two horses and one man doing all the work of cutting and binding. The bundles, when bound, fall gently to the ground, striking on the butt end; so there is no loss of heads falling off or grain rattling out, as where taken up by hand or with barley forks. In fact, the Osborne Self-binding Harvester is a perfect machine in every way, and ranchers who raise grain should all see them operate before buying a harvesting machine. Anyone who would like to know any of the particulars about the operation of the above machines, if they will either call on him or address C. W. Perry, box 680, Reno, Nevada, or D. M. Osborne & Co., San Francisco, Cal., he will be much pleased to answer all.

A citizens' meeting next Monday night at Smith's Academy of Music will discuss the fair proposition. Go there, and go in earnest.

THE SUFFERING DEMOCRACY.

Meeting at the Court House To-day—A Wall for Primaries.

The Democratic County Central Committee held a meeting at the court house this afternoon, for the purpose of filling the vacancy left by the retirement of J. R. Knox. Judge James occupied the Chair. J. P. Richardson was elected to the place by the three or four dozen Democrats present. Mr.
Richardson made a beautiful speech, expressing his desire for harmony in the party. He wanted to see all differences "amassably" settled, whatever that means. The question as to the mode of choosing delegates to the State Convention was taken up.

Charles Knust moved that the committee appoint the delegates. Judge Haydon seconded the motion, and the fat was in the fire at once.

Judge James thought this was throwing a great responsibility upon the committee. He preferred that the matter should be left to the people at the primaries.

A citizen with a face of fire, and a voice almost as stout as Kittrell's, urged that the County Convention should be held earlier than the State Convention, and that the County Convention should appoint the delegates.

Then Mr. Cookes rose and begged leave, as an out-and-out Democrat, died-in-the wool, to "denounce" any such proceeding. "Throughout the entire length and breadth of the land," he said was groaning under the evils of centralized government. He begged leave once more to denounce any attempt to deprive a Democrat of his primary.

Mr. Knust was delighted to learn that Mr. Cookes was a Democrat again. The last news he had heard of Mr. Cookes was that he was an ardent follower of Jones, the Workingman, and actively engaged in denouncing both parties. He was glad to welcome him back.

Mr. Cookes denied that he was a Workingman. He had not followed Jones. He "didn't follow no man." He had resigned from the Workingman's party.

Charley Queen soared aloft. He was against Cookes, and trusted fully in the integrity, judgment and Democracy of the committee.

Judge Webster was opposed to the power being put in the hands of the committee. It would be sure to create great dissatisfaction among the party.

The motion was lost by a large majority, and then Judge Webster began a eulogy upon Mr. Hagerman.

Mr. Richardson rose to a point of order.

Mr. Hoole moved that Judge Webster have the privilege of addressing the meeting.

Mr. Richardson objected to the motion on the ground that Mr. Hoole was not a Democrat.

Point well taken and Judge Webster was cooked.

The committee then gave Mr. Hoole, the toiler, a chance to explain himself. He said he was a Workingman, but there was nothing in the Workingmen's party that was not Democratic.
He would support the Democratic State ticket but not the county. If the Democrats put up a county ticket they would be merely wasting time, as the Workingmen were going to sweep the field. The meeting then adjourned and the committee went into executive session, presumably to fix things up for the primary.

The Morning Cocktail.

He was a very easy-mannered young man for a stranger, but he was red about the eyes and had an unhealthy pallor as he lounged into a Commercial row saloon early this morning.

"Make me a cocktail," he said to the barkeeper; and the barkeeper flew about and shook all the surrounding bottles.

"Plenty of wine in it," said the young man.

"Shove a little more biters into it," said the young man.

"Make it stiff," said the young man.

"Is the whisky good?" asked the young man, as he lifted the large cocktail to his lips and drained the glass. Then he said, composedly:

"Hang her up, barkeeper."

"What?" shouted the man of drinks.

"Keep it in your head," replied the young man with dignity. They were his last words, for the next instant he and the barkeeper were rolling around on the sidewalk, too busy gouging to talk. That accounts for the crowd at half-past six o'clock this morning.
The strange young man licked.

Too MANY HEATHENS.—Washoe ought to be a first-class field for a big anti coolie organization. Those who have means of knowing say that in this county there are nearly twice as many Chinamen as white men drawing wages. This is rather crowding white labor and it isn't very surprising that the workingmen get out of temper and kick over the traces of moderation.

Jottings.

—District Attorney Coffin, of Ormsby, was in town to-day.

—The carcasses are said to be in Virginia, and the eagles are gathering.

—J. G. Looper and Ross Lewer, good Washoe valley Democrats, are in town.

—Thermometer quoted at 88 to-day hanging in the shade against a cool brick wall; 92 yesterday.

—There are several cold turkey candidates waiting for dead things before announcing themselves.

—An assessment one cent per share has been levied by the Consolidated Sunrise mining company, delinquent August 26th.

—A communication from H. H. B. appears on the first page of this issue.
It explains the $373 charge, about which the Silver State is so worth.

—B. B. Norton was no better today, and his condition is considered still dangerous. We shall be glad to chronicle any improvement in Mr.
Norton's health.

—A handsome bound prayer-book, with a bible attachment and some written extracts from Schenck was found on Commercial row this morning. The GAZETTE has no desire to gratuitously advertise Deacon Parkinson, but it would rather do that than pay express charges to Carson. Fiat justicia nux vomica, a wink is as good as a nod to a foolish deacon.

Hard to Satisfy.

"I never see such a fellow to growl as you are," said one leading resident to another in a foremost saloon on Commercial Row. "Nothing satisfies you. You put me in mind of old Crabb over in Marysville. He found his toes stickin' up one mornin' an' went to heaven. Another of the boys pegged out and went there himself.
He hunted up Crabb an' asked him how he was gettin' along an' how he liked the layout. 'Well,' says Crabb, 'it's fair, that's a fact, but I ain't quite comfortable. You see I got my wings wet comin' up an' this d—d halo don't fit me.'"

Drinks.

In the Hands of His Party.

"Jobson, my boy," cried Hinder-spur last night, shaking his friend warmly by the hand, "Mrs. H. tells me that you will soon be a father."

"Ye-es," replied Jobson, absently, "subject, of course, to the decision of the Reno delegation to the Republican County Convention."

And Jobson isn't the worst of them, either. When the GAZETTE reporter runs across a man who is not a candidate for something or other, he will clasp him to his bosom and shed glad, happy tears.

A Cure for Hog Cholera.

Editor Reno Gazette: Please publish the following for the good of hog raisers. It was given to me by a friend who assured me that it was an excellent remedy. I have tried it and think it very good: One pound madder, one pound sulphur, one pound salt petre, one pound resin, one-half pound black antimony, one-half pound copperas, one-half pound asafetida, two ounces arsenic. A dose—four tablespoonfuls to five hogs once a day if they have the cholera; as a preventive, once a week. A. H. BARNES.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.—Hon. W.
M. Boardman wears a smile of serene satisfaction to-day. His good lady has presented him with another pledge of affection, and all is well. The newcomer was published this morning as a girl, but the father dissents, and affirms that the little stranger is a candidate for boyhood—subject, of course, to the Republican committee.

A WORD TO THE WISE.—Matt Rapp of Steamboat is in town to-day and we have only one word to say about it.
You can't go to a better place than Steamboat for bath, dinner or Sunday amusement. Try it and if the proprietors don't treat you well send bill to the GAZETTE.
